Brand Introduction

dunhill is one of the most recognised luxury brands in the world, respected for its quality, consistency and heritage.

The company today is focused on providing superior luxury accessories, designed in an English style, for sophisticated, affluent men all over the world. We believe our focus on English accessories for men clearly differentiates us from the competition while being true to the history of the company.

Indeed, embracing the idea of the new modish British gentleman, Alfred Dunhill has built a distinguished reputation based on the values of style, innovation, quality and wit. Jude's masculine style and unparalleled status as a modern male icon - as well as being a considered and highly accomplished actor - perfectly complements the spirit of dunhill.

dunhill is delighted to introduce the Homes of Alfred Dunhill in London, Shanghai and Tokyo. Committed to advancing the pursuit of male indulgence, this British luxury menswear and accessories brand has developed a unique global concept which embraces the male luxury and retail lifestyle. Reflecting its pillars of masculinity, functionality, quality and Britishness, the Homes of Alfred Dunhill will represent the third dimension of luxury – The Experience, allowing the customer to truly live the brand.

dunhill markets its luxury products through over 200 stores worldwide. Currently there are approx. 2,500 wholesale points of sale globally.

In the 1890s, London was filled with the noise and bustle of the greatest city in the world – horse-drawn carriages, the clatter of horses' hooves and the crack of whips. This was the atmosphere in which Alfred's father, Henry Dunhill, built his flourishing business in the Euston Road from about 1877. Horse leathers, saddlery and accessories for carriages were amongst the items with which the young apprentice, Alfred, at the age of 15, learned his trade. In 1893, Henry Dunhill decided to retire, allowing Alfred, at the age of twenty-one, to take over the business.

Alfred was quick to take up the challenge and soon transformed his father's original business in the horse-carriage trade to that of supplying accessories for the new age of the motor-car. Alfred Dunhill's Motorities soon became integral to the needs of early motor-car drivers.

Alfred was able to supply everything that was required, from heavy, weather-proof leather coats to altitude meters to assist up and downhill motoring, from voltmeters and clocks for the dashboard, to horns of extraordinary shape and musical ability which could frighten off the sleepest drivers of old-fashioned horses and carts.

Alfred opened shops in Mayfair during the 1910s and 20s that set the tone for the growth of the business. Alfred supplied not only the technical extras but also elegant motoring attire for ladies and gentlemen.

He also catered for his customers' social aspirations with such wonderful products as luncheon and tea outfits for what would become a celebrated English pastime – a picnic in the country, whatever the weather!

The move into true luxury goods goes back to the 1920s. An office in New York was opened on 5th. Avenue in 1921, and in London a further shop was established in 1923. By the mid 1930s, dunhill was considered one of the most 'luxuriously appointed luxury emporiums for men'. Goods included stationery, playing cards, frames, diaries, cocktail sets and bar accessories. By the late 1970s, dunhill was offering a range of 3500 luxury products for men in over 20 countries including a ready to wear collection launched in 1976.

Royalty, rulers, Indian princes, politicians, diplomats, stars of stage & screen from Europe and the USA and celebrities of every description passed through the shop.

Patrons included Pablo Picasso, Winston Churchill, The prince of Wales, Elvis Presley, Frank Sinatra, and many others.

dunhill has been making highly distinctive and individual cufflinks for men since the 1930s. These cufflinks are worn by a discerning man who understands that in terms of Englishness, and of luxury, dunhill does it better than anyone else. dunhill continuously provides customers with designs that communicate personality, and that set dunhill apart from the competition. From the initial design drawings through to the final execution of the finished product, each dunhill cufflink has a confidence and quality that few can match.

Using sterling silver, 18ct gold and steel as base materials, sourced internationally from superior suppliers, each cufflink is rhodium plated to avoid tarnishing. It is then individually hand polished by skilled craftsmen, ensuring the highest level of finish.

Each season, the cufflink collection is rigorously analysed and creatively developed to ensure a balance between time-proven classics and pieces with newness and originality.

With the highly original curved finding, a dunhill cufflink displays a quiet elegance on the inside of the cuff as well as the outside.

Lighters

Lighters have played an important part in dunhill's history. In 1924, Alfred Dunhill invented the first lighter that could be operated with one hand – the Unique (the very first prototype of this lighter was made using a Coleman's Mustard tin as the base!). Since then, dunhill has continuously innovated and delivered the very best in lighters. Elvis Presley and Pablo Picasso are counted amongst those who used a dunhill lighter. Today's dunhill range of lighters continues this tradition of excellence, with objectives that have not changed since the earliest days. dunhill is committed to delivering lighters that work first time every time - combined with innovative design touches that set them apart.

The Rollagas Flint (Red)

The flint slide continually adjusts as the flint wears thus giving a constant visual reference. The flint chamber springs open when the slide is pressed back and the new flint is inserted in seconds.

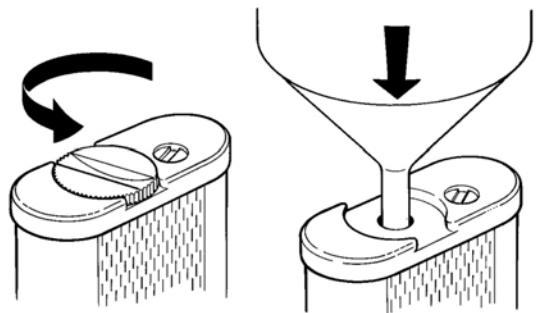

The Filling Procedure

Fit the white adaptor to the dunhill butane gas refill (adaptor enclosed in cap of refill.) Twist the back cap till it pops open, then pull it out. Place the lighter upside down on a rigid surface. The refill inserts vertically into the valve at the base of the lighter. This valve is specially designed to prevent the lighter from being overfilled when the correct procedure is followed.

The Unique Pocket/ Sports/ Table flint (Blue)

A Horizontal fitted spring and screw enable the flint to be quickly changed by their removal. The remains of the old flint are then shaken out, the new flint inserted, and the spring adjusted to produce a spark.

The Filling Procedure

The dunhill butane gas refill inserts into a valve in the base of the lighter that is revealed when the large centre screw is removed. This valve is specially designed to prevent the lighter from being overfilled when the correct procedure is followed.

NB (white adaptor should not be used for unique range).

Bladon Black

dunhill is delighted to introduce an extension to the successful Bladon range of durable yet elegant leather luggage. Designed to keep up with the demands of the modern, intelligent traveller, the exquisitely crafted Bladon Black collection embraces functionality with timeless design – in versatile and masculine black vegetable tanned leather.

Bladon takes its name from the English village where Sir Winston Churchill, one of dunhill's most iconic and loyal customers, is buried. Further drawing on the brand's heritage, premium leather has been expertly crafted to the same standards that Alfred himself instilled over 100 years ago. The choice of distinctive cowhide leather ensures each piece is unique – with every cut of hide presenting variations in textures and shades, each piece which will develop its own character with age.

For the culturally astute, this relaxed travel collection provides alternatives to more formal and solid business cases. To emphasise the masculine appearance, each design uses solid brass hardware and is lined in black cotton twill.

Bladon Tan

With a history of creating beautifully crafted and durable leather luggage for almost 120 years, dunhill presents the Bladon Tan leather collection. Tanned leather with a masculine, natural grained appearance is crafted into timelessly elegant but always functional luggage.

Honouring the brand's esteemed British heritage, Bladon takes its name from the English town where Sir Winston Churchill is buried - a national icon who was a faithful customer of dunhill. Each of the three styles in the Bladon Tan collection are destined to become heirlooms, with the designs respecting every demand of the modern luxury traveller. The resilient vegetable tanned cowhide leather ensures each piece is individual - with every cut of hide presenting variations in marks and shades which will darken with age, taking on a soft and rich patina over the years.

Providing a more relaxed alternative to the suitcase or executive trolley, the range features various day bags to carry everything from passports to phones, keys to documents. Each design uses brushed stainless steel hardware and is lined in natural white twill.

Cordovan

An exceptional and rare leather due to its unique source and treatment, dunhill present a concise collection of Cordovan small leather pieces for Spring Summer 2011. Elegant dunhill designs are crafted using Genuine Cordovan Shell which is considered to be the most impermeable leather known to man and has an exquisitely glossy finish, durability and flexibility.

Although originating in Cordoba, Spain, the dunhill Cordovan Leather range uses skins sourced from one of only three tanneries left in the world to undertake the traditional and specific operations needed to produce Shell Cordovan. The Horween Leather Company in Chicago, Illinois have over 100 years of expertise and treat every skin – which comes only from the rump of a horse – with premium oils and dyes applied by hand. Genuine Shell Cordovan is the art of tanning at its finest. The irregular oval shaped shells are hand tanned, stuffed, shaved, and then polished – a process taking nine months.

The dunhill Cordovan Lace Up shoes present a classic rounded style in richly dyed burgundy Shell Cordovan complemented by a welted leather sole and subtle tone on tone stitching and laces. Traditionally Cordovan is used only on footwear but dunhill have diversified to include other small leather pieces. A Simple Belt is hand stitched to join three panels of Cordovan with a simple antique silver buckle. An elegant Coat Wallet or Travel Card Case is offered along with a Billfold wallet with room for either 8 credit cards or 4 cards and coin purse.

Once fully treated in Chicago, the Cordovan is then shipped to Italy to be crafted into the dunhill designs. Due to the unique nature of the skin, each piece will develop its own character and patina as it's cherished over the years.

Sidecar

In 1915, Dunhill's Motorities patented and began manufacturing a triangular form of motorcycle sidecar chassis, catering to the gentleman motorcyclist. Over 85 years later, inspired by these exceptional sidecars, dunhill has introduced a striking range of luxury business luggage – dunhill Sidecar.

The black-brown colour of the unique grained cowhide leather, which dunhill refers to as “bitter chocolate”, is smart and modern – and always correct for business. The pieces are light in weight, yet have great strength to meet dunhill's standards for workable luggage.

The grained cowhide is highly durable and is treated with anti-scratch properties to ensure impeccable appearance.

The Sidecar collection is made in Italy.

Belts

dunhill has a long tradition of supplying menswear and leather goods to the luxury market, and these come together when designing and producing these belt collections. The same craftsmanship goes into the making of the leather part of the belt as you will find in dunhill bags and wallets, and many of the belts are reversible. The buckles are brass with palladium or gold plating and can be released from the leather to make them fully adjustable for length.

All dunhill belt buckles are made of brass which gives a weighty, luxury feel to the products. The buckles are mostly hand polished.

All dunhill belts and their components are made in Italy.

Shoes

Taking inspiration from the modernist style of London's Bloomsbury Group in the 1930s, the dunhill Spring Summer 2010 Footwear collection playfully subverts classic English designs.

The ease of dressing favoured by the experimental artists is reflected by casual styles and idiosyncratic details, distinguished by bursts of colour.

The formal style of a traditional lace up appears in a more relaxed form as the Contrast Welt Derby shoes. Dark brown calfskin is coupled with a bold royal blue welt highlighting a natural leather sole and off white stitching. Navy waxed laces add an additional casual point of difference on the elegant and classic design. The same style is also presented in navy leather with a red welt and royal blue waxed laces or tan calfskin characterised by a navy welt and natural laces.

Updating another modern British classic, the Desert Boots are presented with a sturdy structure and welted white Vibram natural rubber sole offering durability. A contrast welt appears in bright red upon a navy suede design or navy accompanying grey suede. The welt is mirrored on each with a darkened hand painted layer along the bottom of each upper – exaggerating the stacked appearance and heightening the graphic look. A choice of bright yellow or red flat cotton laces further add to the boots' colourful look.
