THE WORLD

End of July

Sentimental, practical and irresistibly charming. These are the ingredients that make up the newest addition to the Montegrappa Professions collection. The Teacher's Pen is a lasting token of appreciation for those who give so much to shape our children's futures.

Teachers deserve so much more than a fleeting gesture of thanks. For those who dedicate their lives to sharing knowledge, Montegrappa has created a tool to cherish and use in professional life. Containing delightful references to apples, academia and classroom ambience, key schoolyear occasions like end-of-term, graduation and National Teachers' Days now have the consummate gift.

For teachers, tutors and instructors, a journey of delight begins from the moment of unboxing the Teacher's Pen:

- A presentation box with the look and feel of a handbound book bears the inscription "The best teacher in the world" within a freehand apple motif.
- High-quality resin body finishes evoke timber classroom furniture and green chalkboard. A barrel motif realised in mock-chalk quotes the inspirational Malala Yousafzai.
- An apple-shaped enamel pin inscribed with "#1" is included as a bonus gift – a way to stay close to the moment when working with chalk rather than ink.

- The design is based on the Elmo 01 – a compact, all-round silhouette that recalls the early 20th century, when Bassano-made fountain pens were widely used in Italian learning institutions.
- Giving apples to teachers is a tradition that dates back in 18th century Scandinavia, but Bing Crosby implanted it in popular culture with his 1939 hit “An Apple for the Teacher”
- The barrel inscription quotes the human rights activist, Malala Yousafzai. Malala’s bravery captivated the world and made her the youngest recipient of the Nobel Peace Prize in 2014.
- International Teachers’ Day falls on October 5 – a day recognised by many countries on a national level. The Teacher’s Pen can be given either by individuals or class groups.
