Constants define our place in writing culture – none more so than a constant state of curiosity. It is a spirit that flows like the waters of the Brenta: silent witness to 110 years of Montegrappa craftsmanship.

Made in the best traditions of artisanal industry, Brenta draws from nature's beauty, with contours cut and polished like a precious stone. Soft, undulating textures offer tactile vitality that flows through every word.

- Complex briolette cutting brings jewel-like quality to writing. Seductive soft facets extend from end to end, reproducing an effect first perfected in our manufactory nearly a century ago
- Our hallmark contour clip and famous 'ruzzolino' clamp are handcrafted components that have underlined the class of many of our most exalted silhouettes over the years
- Montegrappa Vintage Class writing instruments use modern technology and tooling to accurately recreate flourishes and qualities of the past for the writers of today
